School Bond Election Is Set for June 26th

Notice of a $20,000 school bond issue to be voted on June 26th has been given out by the trustees of the Sunset School District for the purpose of making alterations or additions to the school buildings other than such as may be necessary for current maintenance, operation, or repairs.

The board is thus putting to voters the decision of whether or not they want the buildings strengthened in accordance with the state inspector's recommendations last summer after the southern California earthquakes. While the inspector stated that the buildings were apparently satisfactory under the requirements in force several years ago during the construction, he submitted a ten-page summary of the several points which should be reinforced if they were to be made highly earthquake resistant.

Considerable discussion has resulted time to time on this subject, and certain taxpayers insisted that thorough examination of the buildings must be made, leaving the board of trustees no alternative except to have the same done and then to ask the people if they would appropriate the necessary funds for work that might be indicated. Should the issue not pass, the board will have done its duty in trying to carry out the state's recommendations both in spirit and action.

The bonds, if passed, shall be in denominations of $1,000 each and will bear interest at the rate of 3½ per cent, and shall be absorbed in 20 years. Polling place will be the Sunset School, and officials in charge will be W. L. Overstreet, Clara Leidig and Mabel Hart.

Velie Clinic Soon To Be General Hospital

Plans for enlarging the Velie Metabolic Clinic into the Peninsula General Hospital with Class A rating made definite progress during the week. The process of final adjustment between the local donors of $14,221, in the recent fund drive, and the present board of Clinic trustees, presided over by E. W. Powell, of Los Angeles, is well under way and final conferences are being scheduled.

This means that the vision held by twenty-two peninsula doctors of having a first class hospital with an open staff in this locality will become real in the near future through cooperative effort on their own part, and through the truly community spirit which prompted the raising of funds to purchase surgical equipment to complete the clinic's highly specialized apparatus.

To be operated on a non-profit basis, and under competent group management, the hospital will offer to the region excellent care at minimum expense. It is interesting to note that donations have included money, pledges of labor and material and of additional land, and that the entire peninsula has taken part in the work of raising the same. With a building and layout that represents a value of upward of half a million, endowed by the late Grace Deere Velie and constructed but a few years ago, the additional equipment will create of it an ideal health center.

Representing the donors' organization are John E. Abernethy, F. P. Howard, Henry Dickinson and Joseph Schoeninger, and it has been most gratifying to them to see the spirit of unity shown by the several groups which must weld their thoughts together to make this ambitious hospital plan a success. Definite announcement of the final details may be expected within a short while.

SCOUTS TO CARRY ON SEPARATE FUND DRIVE

Prominent Carmelites interested in Boy Scout activities met on Wednesday to discuss raising funds for the forthcoming year in Scoutdom locally, and agreed unanimously that the September budget canvas should be conducted independently of the Community Chest drive with which it has heretofore been connected.

Recent growth of the boy's organization from the original Scout Troop 86 into a second troop and into the Sea Scouts as well has meant that the groups will need more funds than can reasonably be expected from Chest allotment, hence the character building program of Carmel, in asking for support, will act independently.

Among those present at the meeting were Herman Crossman, Everett Smith, O. W. Bardarson, Commander Peterson, Ernie Perkins, John Neikirk, Ranald Cockburn, Melvin Dorsett and Al Young, the latter a scout executive. The Drive will be in charge of Bernard Rowntree, and will take place September 10th to 15th.

Miss Jean Thompson, having completed her first year at Stanford where she was recently "initiated" into the solemn order of the Kappa Delta Theata Sorority spent the week end in Carmel. She will return this week end to spend the summer in Carmel.

Ritschel Wins $1,000 Prize in L. A. Exhibit

New distinction comes to William Ritschel, famous marine artist who lives at Carmel Highlands, with his winning of first prize last Wednesday in the All California Art Exhibition in the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles. The prize carries a cash award of $1,000.

Of particular interest to Carmel is the fact that Ritschel is an active member of the Carmel Art Association, and that the subject of the painting, entitled "Sunlit Shores of California," was taken from an outlook near his Highlands studio.

ACCIDENT NEARLY COSTS YOUNGSTER HIS EYESIGHT

Little Emory Neilsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Neilsen, of Carmel, is fortunate to have his eyesight after a freak accident resulting from playing with ammunition.

He and several playmates placed a shotgun shell in a vise and took turns firing at it with an air gun. When the cap was finally struck, it flew back toward the Neilsen lad and penetrated between his eyes, finally lodging deep in the nose. Dr. David Matzke believes that the sight of both eyes will be unimpaired, but sounds once more to youngsters the warning against playing with any form of explosives.

SUIT AGAINST MONTEREY HOSPITAL BY MRS. FISH

Mrs. Sidney Fish has instituted suit for return of laboratory equipment of the Wybord foundation, established by her a few years ago on the grounds of the Monterey Hospital in memory of her father. Return of said equipment is asked, or payment of $2,000 and costs.

Represented by Wychoff and Garner, the Watsonville law firm, she contends that she is and has been at all times the owner of this equipment, and that her requests for its return have been denied, hence the present action in the Salinas court.

SCHOOL BUDGET TO BE DISCUSSED AT MEETING

The Sunset School annual budget will be subject of discussion at the next regular meeting of the school trustees on Tuesday evening, and the public is asked to be present and express views upon this important matter before the figures are submitted to county authorities.

It is the policy of Trustees Ewig, Taylor and Levinson to seek close cooperation of the people, and here is an opportunity to assist them with something that is a vital element in the town's educational facilities.

The meeting will be held at the school, commencing at 7:45 o'clock.

Miss Edna Perviance, an old time movie actress and the former leading lady of Charlie Chaplin, was a Del Monte Dog Show visitor.

Library Tax Decision Awaits More Figures

No definite action on Carmel's public library taxation of 21c per each $100 assesed valuation of taxpayers holdings resulted from the council's Wednesday night meeting, which was especially pointed toward stilling the public clamor either by reducing the expense or by justifying it.

Councilman Joe Burge was openly for lowering the cost, which represents one-sixth of the total city revenue from taxes, and questioned Mrs. Karl Rendtorff and other members of the Library Board on the subject of where library funds went to and on how many non-taxpayers received library service.

It became clear that the library circulates an immense number of books in proportion to the town's population because of the 2400 borrowers upon its lists, hence high cost relative to other towns of the same size. Many petitions and letters to the council showed diverse opinions, as did discussion by persons present at the meeting, and complete figures were asked by the council for its regular meeting in July before making any changes.

Burge, as street commissioner, spoke of the economy of oiling arterial roads against summer traffic wear, and costs will be investigated. He also indicated need of storm drains, and asked change of Ordinance 14 that permitted dumping of rubbish in gutters and clogging present conduits.

Councilman John Catlin reported a recent tri-city water rate meeting where creation of a peninsula municipal water district was discussed. To investigate the water situation, the council appropriated $100 as its share toward a three months check-up of the entire system.

City Attorney Argyll Campbell urged that the Carmel sewers be put under Sanitary District control to solve the vexing question of maintenance. Councilman Robert Norton secured appointment of Manuel Pereira, of the fire department, as fire inspector for the next four months at $60 per month, and also got an appropriation of $300 for a new traffic department motorcycle.

Catlin eulogized the late Governor James Rolph, Jr., and the council resolved by a standing vote to adjourn in honor of his name, and to forward a copy of the resolution to his relatives.

ART ASSN. TO MEET IN GALLERY TODAY

The Carmel Art Association will hold a general meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock in its Gallery on North Dolores Street, and will discuss plans for the coming season. A no-jury exhibit will shortly be hung, following the watercolor exhibt of the past month that has created so much favorable comment, and details of this are due for consideration.

COUNTY SERA FUNDS WILL BE CUT DOWN

Hope that a substantial sum of State Emergency Relief Act money would be allotted to Monterey County was dimmed when late reports showed that not over $7,000 would probably be the county's share. Certain employment and recreation ventures in Carmel and on the Peninsula, had been based on a greater amount, and new plans may have to be formulated.

One interesting idea was put forth along lines similar to the Palo Alto Cooperative Arts and Crafts project which has been in successful operation for some time. Using the skilled workers and artisans hereabouts who are out of work and would be wasted in doing road work or merely chopping trees, a good sized building could be erected on inexpensive land to house tools and equipment with which they might later turn out saleable articles.

Betty Kocher Sues Clinic for $76,000

Suit for $76,000 was filed by Mrs. Betty Kocher, wife of Dr. R. A. Kocher, in Salinas Superior Court last week against the Grace Deere Velie Metabolic Clinic for alleged error in operation of an X-Ray machine during treatment on a thyroid gland, resulting in severe burns on her neck.

The injury took place in June, 1933, the complaint states, and that it created an area several inches in diameter which has not yet healed and which has caused her extreme pain and embarrassment. She is asking $75,000 for personal injuries and $1,000 for expenses in connection with skin grafting to repair the asserted damage.

Named defendants were E. W. Powell, president of the board of hospital trustees, Dr. Edwin F. Kehr and Charles Marsden. Representing Mrs. Kocher is Louis Oneal, San Jose attorney and prominent political worker.

It is stated by Dr. R. A. Kocher, that his wife's action was an attempt to have the insurance company that covers the clinic and its employees with a blanket policy meet the obligation, and that it was simply in the nature of a friendly suit between herself and the clinic to recover the sums involved.

New Members On Music Society Lists

The Carmel Music Society is jubilant, for subscriptions for the Summer Session are fast coming in. The personal calls made by the various captains and their lieutenants are resulting in many new members, and doors are opened wide to the zealous enthusiasts. Captain Max Hagemeyer (aged twelve) reports fine progress in his district; Captain Gwen Stearns has had practically one hundred per cent return; Captain-General Mary Marble dashes into the Gallery many times a day waving one more card signed by cooperating business men and women up and down Ocean Avenue and Dolores Street.

Among those who have already taken subscriptions are: Maxwell Taft, Mrs. Harry Myer, Miss Marion Kingsland, Mrs. Frederic Strong, Mrs. Walter Gaddum, Miss Anna McCormick, Mrs. H. M. Gleason, Miss Ella Gellogg, Powder Puff, Miss F. L. Stewart, Miss Mary Eyre, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cockburn, Mrs. Connie Shuman, Mrs. B. F. Dixon, E. H. Ewig, Mrs. Walton, Miss Audry Walton, Kenneth Goold, Mrs. Cornelia Olmstead, J. L. Schroeder, Mrs. Agnes Purdy, J. W. Wright, Mrs. L. C. Ralston, D. L. M. Allen, Alexander Allen, Conrad Imelman, Mrs. Grace Glenn, Mrs. McStay, Miss Barbara O'Neill, Teddy Marble and Mrs. Minnie J. Holden.

Over a hundred other names are reported which have not yet been turned in by the captains, and the society feels that the campaign is only just started.

FOREST THEATRE MUSIC CANCELLED BY WEATHER

Due to the uncertainty of the weather the Carmel Music Society regretfully cancels the Half Hour of Music in the Forest Theatre which had been planned for this coming Sunday afternoon, June 10th, at 2:45 o'clock.

The rehearsal of the Orchestra will take place, however, on Friday evening as planned, at which time work on the Symphony to be played in August will be started.

CARMEL VALLEY CROPS DAMAGED BY RAINFALL

Rainfall throughout the west during the early part of the week may have allayed forest and brush fire menace, but it did much damage to cut hay and certain fruit and vegetable crops, and will not materially aid growth of grass in grazing areas.

Many Carmel Valley ranchers and gardeners report losses, and this will consequently bring increase in prices of fresh foods locally.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith who are occupying the Hares cottage spent part of last week in San Francisco.

MADAME ORLOVA SPEAKS TONIGHT IN THE GROVE

Madame Barry Orlova, remembered for her lecture here on "Russia Yesterday and Today," will appear in the Pacific Grove high school auditorium this evening in an address entitled "The New Civilization," to be followed by an open forum. It will be recalled that in the forum following the Russian lecture there was a lively exchange of ideas that brought a high pitch of interest under capable control of the main speaker.

An actress of international repute, a traveller and observer, Madame Orlova is well qualified to speak upon the course of civilization and point out its dangers, its hopeful signs and its immense uncertainties. Tickets are on sale locally at Staniford's Drug Store at popular prices, and many who heard her earlier talk are planning to take in the Pacific Grove event tonight.

BRIDGE ON WEDNESDAY TO AID SERRA FIESTA

Much interest is being shown in the Wednesday afternoon bridge tea planned to benefit the forthcoming Serra Fiesta, and many prominent Carmel women are active in its promotion. Among these are Mrs. Jack Abernethy and Mrs. Ray Brownell, and working with them are Miss Anita Doud and Miss Lillian Carrol. Location will be Serra-Crespi Hall in the Carmel Mission grounds.

Play will start at 2:00 o'clock, and thirty tables have been arranged for. Guests are urged to communicate with Mrs. Abernethy at Carmel 1105, or with Mrs. Brownell at Carmel 188-R, in ample time to secure reservations.

The affair is but one of the many planned to raise funds for the August Fiesta to which Carmel will invite the nation and ask it to join in celebrating the 150th year of Father Junipero Serra's death, which can be done here most appropriately in the very Mission grounds where the padre lies buried.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hill recently returned from a two weeks' visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hill now living in Washington state.

Don Lee Will Direct Forest Theater Play

The Carmel Community Players and the Forest Theatre will unite forces to produce the summer outdoor play beginning July 4th and running four days, under direction of Don Lee, of Hollywood. "Going Some," by Rex Beach, will be the vehicle, and its western outdoor atmosphere ideally adapts it to the famous Forest Theatre stage.

Frank Sheridan, veteran actor, is a fellow member of the Maskers, in Hollywood, with Lee, and he was influential in securing the experienced services of this member of the well-known Lee family.

A brother of Rowland Lee, director, and Bob Lee, screen writer, Don himself is widely experienced in stage and picture work, as well as having had a newspaper background, and has frequently visited in Carmel. From boyhood he has shown a flair for the theatre, and through school and college was prominent in dramatics. The past twelve years he has been associated with pictures, and recently he wrote the screen version of "The Last Man on Earth," then an original story for Tom Mix entitled "Ladies to Board," both of which have been shown in Carmel, and now is working on an original comedy for Joe E. Brown.

Lee saw the opening Broadway production of the play he is to put on here, and is enthusiastic about the opportunities presented through the natural setting of the Forest Theatre and the trained actors available in Carmel.

GEORGE STONE LECTURES ON WORLD-WIDE TOUR

George Stone, the well known Carmel photographer and teacher, is giving a series of three lectures on travel, the first of which was last night, in the Denny-Watrous Gallery oposite the post office. Yesterday's subject was "To Galapagos We Will Go," and is the record of visits made to the islands in 1927 and 1931, an equatorial group that are among the most remote and desolate of all spots on the globe and yet are full of significance to the student of nature.

Next Thursday, the 14th, the subjects will be "The Charm of England," illustrated with many slides of the cathedrals and the famous spots of beauty, presented with a freshness of viewpoint which wins all audiences. Persons will either want to see England from the standpoint of his enthusiasm or will wish to visit it again to recapture some of its charm.

On the following Thursday, the 21st, "The Spirit of Italy" will be the topic. It is based on a record of a six months' auto tour of Italy during which Stone not alone photographed the beauties of the landscape but was privileged to go into the galeries of Florence and Rome and secure photographs of the greatest works of art. As a background for all this ancient beauty there is the problem of a modern and vigorous nation striving to adjust itself to the problems and responsibilities of modern civilization while living in the setting and traditions of mediaevalism

Prices for the lectures are moderate, and a limted block of tickets has ben set aside for school children at a reduced rate. Reservations may be made at the Denny-Watrous Gallery.

CARMEL MUSIC SOCIETY HAS ITS ANNUAL JINKS

The Annual Meeting and Jinks of the Carmel Music Society brought over a hundred and fifty members and guests together in the Denny-Watrous Gallery Tuesday evening for the traditional costume party entertainment, and Carmel reputation was more than upheld by the quality of offerings on stage. The acts were a follies show in themselves.

Following the treasurer's report, the reading of the minutes of last year's meeting and election of four new directors to fill vacancies, came the performance. Rosamond Marble started them with Pastorale, impersonating a dainty dancing doll upon a music box, followed by Ah! Scapella, an ensemble number conducted with fervor by Abraham Weiss.

Members of the whispering choir included Anne Greene, Sidney Robertson, Edith Dickinson, Calista Rogers, Winifred Howe, Dorothy Ledyard, Mary Marble, Katharine Howe, Betty Kocher, and Elizabeth Strong. The men were Vasia Anikeef, James Gillingham, Harry Dickinson, Henry Dickinson, Frank Wickman, Dr. Hollingsworth, Fritz Wurzmann, Laidlaw Williams, Theodore Norman and Willard Wheeler.

Carmel Iodized Beach Music was featured by Prof. Wm. Silva, and brought to our artistic village new appreciation for the simple tones of kelp tubas, even to the extent of his playing two of these simple instruments at once. Assisting the professor were the Messrs. Hagemeyer.

Then came a touching piece entitled Carmel's Wonder Child, or Percy Rehcoksky, in person. Strangely resembling Dr. R. A. Kocher, president of the Music Society, this prodigy held the audience mute with his performance upon the Canton Fiddle, followed by an equally touching rendering of the Lost Chord upon the Borsch Horn.

As an emergency number until Kerosena could complete her costume, Paula Dougherty kindly consented to render "The Rosary" and "Oh, Promise Me," both in admirable attempts at English. Kerosena then bounded into appearance and favored the assemblage with captivating Latin movements that ended with hurling flowers to the applauding dozens. Leon Wilson, it was rumored, was responsible for the coreography.

The Music Lesson which followed found The Anthropomorphic Method, by Which-Man, featuring Anne Greene and Dr. Kocher, and needless to say it gave the onlookers something to talk about at breakfast. Finale was Schnitzed Music, directed by Fritz Wurzmann, and under his persuasion the entire room took up singing and refused to stop, and among the impromptu solo numbers was that of Don Staniford with "Staniford Forever!"

The present officers of the society will serve during the summer, and they are Dr. R. A. Kocher, president; Henry F. Dickinson 1st vice president; Fritz Wurzmann, 2nd vice president Mrs. Katharine Mac F. Howe, 3rd vice president; Mrs. Eugene Marble, recording secretary; Miss Emily Pitkin, corresponding secretary, and Hurd Comstock, treasurer.

Directors elected to fill vacancies were: Mrs. Rubin Serrano, Mrs. Caroline Pickett, Laidlaw Williams and Ruth Inglis.

Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. John O'Shea, sets were painted by John O'Shea, and Mrs. Marble was responsible for the decorations, all of which contributions to the evening were given able assistance by many other members of the society.

THE A CAPPELLA CHORUS

Tryouts are being held daily for the a cappella chorus which Mr. Penha is going to direct over the summer. Anyone who is interested in learning this style of singing, please make inquiries at the Denny-Watrous Gallery.

HEIRLOOM TEA PARTY AT COMMUNITY CHURCH

A delightful heirloom tea party was given by the Guild of the Community Church at the church yesterday afternoon. Family heirlooms were on display at this tea and were enjoyed by all who attended. A small silver offering was made, along with a food sale which was very successful.

Musical Club Has An Evening of Songs

The Musical Art Club at its monthly meeting in the Van Ness-McGowan home in the Peninsula Club grounds, ended the winter season last Tuesday with an evening of song. Fenton Foster's Glee Club sang four groups, and the evening was concluded with their traditional closing song of "Friendship." With Gordon Knowles as soloist, they added the harmonies for a new song never given here before, "The Song of Carmel," in which Mr. Knowles was accompanied by Miss Alice Lee Keith.

Mrs. Mary Billings Green, of Hartford, Conn., who with her husband is a guest of Mrs. Millicent Sears, of Carmel Highlands, evidenced her fine understanding of music and long training in a group of soprano solos, for which she played her own accompaniment, giving first "Shepherd, Thy Demeanor Vary," an old English song by Thomas Dixon, "The Lass With the Delicate Air," by Dr. Arne, and "Un Doux Lien," by Gelbruck.

The Club was further delighted to be let in on the more personal nature of a song which Mrs. Green did with her husband, in that they sang it together just thirty-one years ago this week at their wedding, the song being "Neath the Stars."

Interspersed with the Glee Club numbers were solos by Paul Hampton, of Salinas, whose efforts brought rounds of applause.

Mrs. Ruth Hageman Herman, president of the club, spoke of the season and its ending with a sense of success and of anticipating a greater year to come, and Mrs. Sears gave the many announcements in connection with the program.

LEGION BARN DANCE TOMORROW EVENING

All roads will lead to the Old Monterey Polo Club tomorrow night when the American Legion stages its Barn Dance with none other than Mary Pickford as the guest of honor. Sale of tickets has been brisk, and last minute indications point to a sellout. Demand for tables has been such that additional space must be used, and reservations for the remaining places may be made by phoning the Monterey Chamber of Commerce.

Benefitting the Drum Corps, the fund raised will be used to send the boys to the Oakland convention of the Legion for competition with other teams. Two years ago they brought home the trophy, and the narrowly missed it last year. With the intensive training that has been undergone since then, and the high spirit shown, everything promises new honors for Monterey Peninsula Post No. 41.

Peggy Converse and William Nye, both members of San Francisco "Drunkard" cast, were in Carmel Sunday and Monday.

ABBOTT WILL SEEK R-ELECTION AUG. 28

Sheriff Carl H. Abbott who has figured prominently in the apprehension of hundreds and criminals in Monterey and other Counties during his past eight years in office has announced his candidacy for re-election subject to the will of the voters of Monterey County.

Abbott was born and raised in Monterey County and numbers his friends by the thousands. His name is closely identified with the pioneering of this County. Sherif Abbott is not only known in this County but as an active member of the Sheriff's, Fingerprinters, National Sheriff's and National Peace Officers Associations and is President of the Central Coast Counties Peace Officers Association.

Sheriff Abbott has gained the esteem and respect of hundreds of peace officers throughout this and other Western States. Although raised in Southern Monterey County, Sheriff Abbott received his education in the local County schools and during his earlier life was a farmer in the southern district of the County. After successfully passing a Civil Service Examination, Sheriff Abbott was appointed a Forest Ranger in the United States Forest Service where his duties were similar to those of a Sheriff having to do with the enforcement of the Federal Laws and Regulations governing the National Forests. He served in this capacity for 12 years leaving that service in 1918.

During the next three and one half years Sheriff Abbott served as City Marshal and Tax Collector of King City leaving this position to become a deputy in the Sheriff's Office and in the November Election of 1926 was elected Sheriff of this County. Abbott was returned to the office again in the 1930 election.

Sheriff Abbott has carried on the ever increasing work of his office which has more than doubled since 1926 by hard work and faithful service.

During the past eight years Sheriff Abbott increased the efficiency of the Sheriff's Office by establishing a Fingerprint Bureau whinch checks daily with the State Bureau at Sacramento through the recently installed Teletype System which he and other Sheriff's sponsored so strongly before the State Legislature.

FOUNDING OF MISSION SHOWN ON OLD RECORD

Carmel will invite California to its Serra Fiesta over the week-end of August 24th to 28th, and will feature each night the "Apostle of California," a pageant depicting Serra's life, to be enacted with the Carmel Mission as a background. Written by George Marion, the dean of present-day producers, it will include such well known Carmelities as Frederic Burt, Helen Ware and Frank Sheridan, and will have in it many descendents of the early families who called Serra their padre.

In the Mission archives are records kept by Junipero Serra and his co-workers ,and one of particular interest deals with the founding of the church here. Dated marginally 1771, it says:

"Viceroy sends personal donation of a complete set of Mass Vestments to be used on Solemn Occasions in San Carlos of Monterey . . . . Serra selects site for new mission location; 3 sailors, 4 California Indians and 5 soldiers were left there to cut and prepare timber and Serra leaves to found San Antonio Mission, which founding was postponed because of insufficient soldier guard, and Serra returned to the Monterey Royal Presidio. He left Crespi and the Padres destined for San Luis Obispo at the Presidio and went to Carmel, August 1st, 1771, accompanied by 5 soldiers.

"Serra found timbers already cut, and soon a small chapel, living quarters and 4 rooms, a granary, boy's dwelling house and kitchen, and a house for soldiers were built of wood, with flat roof and surrounded by a good stockade and nearby corrals for the cattle and stock.

"December 1771, toward the end of the month, work of removal (from Monterey) was completed, and the reason for the slowness was because of few workers and because tools and utensils were at the old site. The two ministers had remained at the Royal Presidio until this time. . . .

"Serra served as Engineer and overseer of the construction, and himself made and consecrated a large cross. It marked the center of the compound. His own hut was near the cross as was the chapel. After adoring the cross, Serra recited Matins Prime before the cross and then celebrated mass at which soldiers and Indians assisted, and afterward each went about his own work. Serra used to adore the Cross many times a day, and before it recite his office."

This being Serra Year, there will be many celebrations in his name throughout the state. Carmel being his final resting place and probably favorite of his Missions, it is particularly fitting that we stage this most ambitious Fiesta with its richness of historical background and its abundance of talent. Accurate in all respects, and produced with depth of feeling, George Marion's play will set a new mark in western historical drama, and already wide interest is being shown in it by prospective visitors up and down the coast.

Committees are headed by the general group presided over by Don Staniford, and volunteers are asked to get in touch with any of the persons in charge to give help in the many details which are in process of completion.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS WILL MEET ON WEDNESDAY

The coming luncheon meeting of the League of Women Voters promises to be of unusual interest. Impending legislative acts, and important measures to be presented at the November elections, will be discussed. Chairmen and members of study classes will report their findings on such measures as fall within their departments, while Mrs. Anne Fisher will give a resume of National Legislation enacted since the League's opening meeting of last September.

The program, to be directed by president,, Mrs. Hester Schoeninger, will be held June 13th, at 12 o'clock noon in the San Carlos Hotel, Monterey. Reservations must be made at the hotel, or through Mrs. Vera Millis, Carmel.

In view of the significance of the matters to be discussed, a general attendance of members and all interested in better government, is expected.

A $20,000 QUESTION

One of these days newspaper headlines will proclaim that Carmel's population will all be suffering from writer's cramp. Making too many cross-marks on bond issue ballots will be claimed as the cause. This has been a banner year for bond elections, so far with the "no's" being two to one favorites.

Now the Sunset school will be the center of another controversy, on the outcome of which little can be said. The legal announcement says that twenty one-thousand dollar bonds will be issued "for the purpose of making alterations or additions to the school buildings other than such as may be necessary for current maintenance, operation or repairs." Translated this means do we spend $20,000 to make the school as earthquake proof as it is possible to do so.

Carmel is very proud of its school; it is one of the finest in the country, we have all sorts of proof of its merit, and Carmel wants to keep up that fine reputation. Children should have every chance to study in a safe place. A building that would come tumbling down at the slightest tremor would not be permitted to be used by the school trustees or the people of the village. But would a tremor shake down our school? The building inspector at the time of the building's completion says not. His report called the building excellent.

However, in the light of new building requirements passed after the recent Long Beach quakes the school is not just what an earthquake-proof building should be. In a report ten pages long, the building inspector recommended certain alterations.

As earthquakes seem to avoid Carmel and alteration costs appear high, the school trustees let the matter go for several weeks. Increasing pressure from individuals kept the question alive and finally the trustees decided to put the situation up to the people. It is the people who pay the bills and at the polls will assume the responsibility. It seems at this time that the bill will be very high and the responsibility small. We do not want to take chances with our children's safety, the writer has a sister at the school and is very much interested in her welfare, but at the same time do we want to spend 20,000 dollars to meet new building requirements passed at a time when everybody had an example of real structural weakness to which to point. If every time building requirements were changed, and Carmel spent many thousands of dollars to keep up with the times, shortly we would have rebuilt our school and the situation would be absurd.

There is a point within reason which must be arrived at in this matter of new work on the buildings.

Whatever structural defects are claimed by state inspectors should not be claimed as having been dangerously present when the school was built, but rather should be claimed as being recommendations to make the school more earthquake resistant in view of recent revision of state standards following the disaster in Southern California.—R. C.

HUNGER

A heart that runs ahead to meet the hills—
But fettered feet;
A heart that lifts itself to touch the stars,
That revels in the loneliness of clouds,
That longs to find the fountain of the fog
And morning mist;
A heart that bathes itself in briny foam,
That hears the pulses beating in the trees,
And soars into the singing mysteries
The lark has known;
Earth-born, earth-tied, earth-doomed, earth-sepulchered,
Sighing,
Crying for god-food,
But given meat.

—Eva Riehle

CAPTIVITY

Set a candle out for me.
I, who am so blind and far
And hemmed with questions, need to be
Where home and peace and small things are.
Oh, set a candle by the door
Of your cool heart, and stand and call—
Your nice, safe heart I fumble for
And never seem to find at all.
Draw me close inside, and then
Fasten the bolts as I shall teach you.
Never let me out again,
No matter how I thunder and beseech you.

—Dorothy Cowles Pinkney
In "Westward"

GOOD-BYE

Let evening winds bear gently down through Spring
A tender, sad adieu;
While Sorrow burns an altar full of stars
All offered up to you.

May dreams weave velvet fingers o'er the brow
Of one so very dear,
And heaven stoop a little closer down
To wipe away a tear.

And when the night has soothed the weary earth
To sleep with soft caress,
Let there be only silence like a song
Above the one I bless.

—Patricia Clements

A SERRA COLUMN

Father Junipero Serra's memory is being honored throughout the state this year in all mission towns from San Diego to Santa Rosa as a memorial to the 150th anniversary of his death. Carmel has had many a fiesta and pageant built around the deeds of this tireless padre, and once more will celebrate in his name, this time more ambitiously than ever. Late in August we will invite the entire State to the Serra Festival and its pageant "The Apostle of California," produced by George Marion, of national dramatic fame, and other resident Carmelites.

The Carmel Mission was not only Serra's favorite spot in the long chain of buildings so patiently erected by him, but is also his resting place and is the treasury of many personal records in his own handwriting. To these access is had through the courtesy of Rev. Michael D. O'Connell, the present father of the Mission, and wide use of them will be made in telling the public of Serra's dramtic life.

It is the intention of the Carmel Pine Cone to conduct a column relating to Serra and his work, particularly relating to the innumerable smaller and more human aspects of the man as revealed by all manner of subject matter put down in those early days of local history, as well as more recent accounts, writings in files of newspapers telling of Mission restoration, of legends handed down by Indians civilized by Serra, by histories compiled by peninsula writers.

In connection with this, persons having material bearing on his life are urged to let this be made public between now and the August week of celebration so as to get the broadest possible distribution of information.

Serra and Carmel are so intimately interwoven that it is our duty and privilege to present something epochal during the August week-end when the five days and nights are dedicated to the anniversary, and every inhabitant of the village is urged to find his or her place in the event and make it reach new heights in California's heroic history.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

FROM GAIL BORDEN'S gossipy column, recent issue of "Chicago Daily Times:"

"The Wisconsin legislature has passed a bill which prohibits all free lunch 'except popcorn, cheese, fish, crackers, pretzels, bread and butter.' What No Spinach?

'And speaking of prohibition and free lunches reminds me that Tom Thienes, who used to write great gobs of articles and light verse for Chicago papers before he retired to Carmel, Calif., wasn't such a bad prophet when he wrote aobut 10 years ago in a book of verse:

"'But while, oh Saki, I denounce the crime
Against the Grape that slaked my thirst sublime,
I know that history oft does repeat,
And empty glasses will be filled in time.'"

BOY SCOUT TROOP 86 GOING TO CAMP WING

By Homer Levinson

Most of the members of Troop 86 are going to spend a week at Camp Wing in the Big Sur region.

Last week-end the silver fox patrol along with some of the older members of the troop went down to inspect the camp. They found that Camp Wing is a very large and fine camp, through which the Big Sur river flows, forming several fine swimming holes.

John Patrick, known over the raido as "Cecil" on the program of "Cecil and Sally went to San Francisco Monday on a business trip.

PLAYHOUSE NEWS

"The Mother of Gregory," the winning production in the recent tournament of the Northern California Drama Association at the Alcazar Theatre in San Francisco, will be performed by the tournament cast of Golden Bough Players at Carmel Community Playhouse on Friday and Saturday, June 29 and 30. Sudermann's famous one-act, "Fritzchen," will also be played, with a cast comprising Charlotte Lawrence, of Carmel; Evert Sholund, of Monterey; Charles Kilian, of Pacific Grove; and Betty Meyers and Norbert Farrell, of San Francisco.

• • •

Edward Kuster, director of the Golden Bough Players, now in their eleventh year, annonuces that he is on the hunt for new acting material on the Peninsula, and that applications and suggestions may be sent to Mrs. M. V. B. Adams, who is acting as secretary of the Advisory Council at Box ——, Carmel.

• • •

Unless permission is granted for the production of a certain late comedy not yet released to non-professional groups, the first of the Golden Bough summer productions at Carmel Community Playhouse will be Elmer Rice's well-known "Counsellor-at-Law." Paul Muni in New York and Otto Kruger on this Coast have made this whirlwind story of the ups and downs of a big-city lawyer a household familiar wherever the theatre is known and talked about. Of the twenty male and ten female characters in the play hardly a dozen have been definitely selected for the local production. Director Kuster states that he is especially anxious to work with a substantial proportion of new material this year and will welcome newcomers, both experienced and inexperienced.

• • •

The handsome plaque won by Edward Kuster's Golden Bough Players in the recent tournament of the Northern California Drama Association in San Francisco is on display in the window of the Yarn Shop, on Dolores Street, opposite the post-office. The plaque is an annual challenge trophy, to be put up and won each year for the best production by a non-professional group of an unpublished one-act play. Forty-five distinct groups participated in the tournament this spring.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, June 10, on the subject "God the Only Cause and Creator."

The Golden Text will be; "Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things" (Psalms 72: 18). Bible selections will include the following passage from the Gospel of John 1: 1, 3, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included which reads as follows: "The creative Principle — Life, Truth, and Love—is God. The universe reflects God. There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected. These ideas range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God" (p. 502).

POSTER EXHIBIT TELLS CARMEL DRAMA HISTORY

A liberal education in Carmel drama-history is afforded in Herbert Heron's display of posters and theatre properties at the Seven Arts gallery on Lincoln street, from productions staged during the past twenty-five years in the Forest Theatre, many of them under Heron's personal direction.

Noteworthy is the quality of the posters, with early ones hand made, and later ones of block prints, but all of gallery merit and having names that have brought fame to this town as an art center. One hundred productions are represented by a hundred and twenty-five display cards, as several of the offerings were repeated and had new posters.

Among the first is Goddard Gales, of "David," and then along come those of Daniel Willard, Perry Newberry's woodcuts, Helene Smith's work, and that of Gertrude Boyle Kanno, De Neal Morgan, John Butler, Wm. Ritschel, Arthur Vachell, Lewis and Talbert Josselyn, George Seideneck, Theodore Criley, Paul Mays, Harry Coleman, Jesse Armes Botke, Rem Remsen, George Kegg, Ralph Whitney, Dr. Alfred E. Burton, Virginia Burton and Arthur Hill Gilbert.

CARMEL LEGION TO BE DISCUSSED ON MONDAY

Discussion on formation of a Carmel Post of the American Legion took place when thirty-odd veterans, members of Peninsula Post No. 41, gathered at the Manzanita Hall last week. From time to time there has been talk of such action, but little has come of it until now.

A paper had previously been circulated by several Legionnaires to gain signatures toward obtaining a Carmel charter, and on this more than thirty-five signatures had been obtained. It was claimed by those wanting the charter that there were already fifty members of the Peninsula Post dwelling in Carmel and immediate environs, and that well over a hundred could be brought into membership.

Prominent members of the Peninsula Post dwelling in Monterey urged that the idea was premature, in view of responsibilities incurred in building the new club house over the hill, and a meeting date of June 11th, at 8 o'clock in the Manzanita Club, was set to discuss more fully the details involved.

LOCAL WRITERS HONORED BY COMMONWEALTH CLUB

Robinson Jeffers and Ella Winter received Honorable Mention from the Commonwealth Club of California for their books "Give Your Heart to the Hawks," and "Red Virtue," as well as the Charles Caldwell Dobie silver medal and honorable mention by Stewart Edward White.

MONTEREY BIRTHDAY IS CELEBRATED LAST WEEK

Peninsula communities joined with Monterey last week-end in celebrating its 164th birthday, and during the three days of colorful features Carmel citizens held prominent posts.

Cavalry and artillery units at the Presidio staged a review on Friday with representatives of Spain and Mexico in attendance, while Saturday found the Memory Garden filled with Merienda guests who enjoyed the luncheon served by Headquarters Troop of the 11th Cavalry. On Sunday there was a morning mass and in the afternoon a concert by the cavalry band.
